"I do not wish women to have power over men; but over themselves."
"I myself have never been able to find out precisely what feminism is: I only know that people call me a feminist whenever I express sentiments that differentiate me from a doormat, or a prostitute."

“Betty Laby ran a lab in the Statistics Department in which a large number of women operated calculators, processing data for the predominantly male staff & researchers.
These women were often called computers, it was a skilled and demanding occupation.”
